The two were trying out a runabout machine which they had unloaded from the Tiberton, this morning. They had proceeded to the Blake Bros. quarry and were returning to their ship at a high rate of speed when the machine suddenly swerved to the outer edge of the road and somersaulted into a ravine. Anderson jumped as the car left the road. Westbury was pinned between the steering wheel and his seat.

He was picked up unconscious and rushed to the Gravena hospital. Little hope is held for his recovery.

First news of the accident was sent to the Abbott emergency hospital by Superintendent Frank Wilson of the Winehaven plant. Dr. U. S. Abbott hurried to the scene.

GERMAN REPLY EXPECTED BY U. S. TONIGHT; KAISER MAY YIELD

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Confidential dispatches from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin indicate that Germany will make certain concessions to the United States in response to the note demanding the immediate abandonment of present methods of submarine warfare.

Whether the concessions will be sufficiently broad to meet the American demands appears uncertain. However, officials reflected an air of hopefulness for amicable settlement of the issue.

It is understood Ambassador Gerard has received broad intimations that the German government will go to great lengths to preserve friendly relations with the United States.

He is understood to have gained his impressions from officials of the Berlin foreign office, including Foreign Minister von Jagow.

BERLIN, April 24.—Imperial Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg was scheduled to confer with American Ambassador Gerard today. It is also probable that Foreign Minister von Jagow will attend the conference.

Unverified reports here today were to the effect that the German answer to America's latest note regarding the submarine crisis will be enroute to Washington before the night.

HENRY BENNELACH, DRIVER OF HOLDUP CAR, IS SILENT; SUPERINTENDENT C. DONNELLY PREFERS CHARGES AGAINST 3

While Henry Bennelach, an Oakland chauffeur remains silent in a cell at the city jail on a charge of robbery placed against him by Charles Donnelly, superintendent of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railways, police are seeking three of his confederates, supposedly implicated in the car barn robbery of April 17th.

Warrants for the arrest of Bennelach and his three confederates were sworn to before Police Judge Hiram Jacobs by Donnelly at a late hour Saturday night.

Bennelach was placed under arrest of Bennelach and his three confederates were sworn to before Police Judge Hiram Jacobs by Donnelly at a late hour Saturday night.

Donnelly was reticent about the matter today. "Maybe I swore to the robbery complaint against Bennelach and maybe I didn't," he said. "It's useless for me to give anything to the newspapers—they don't get anything right."

Bennelach admitted to the Oakland police that he had driven the trio of car barn bandits to this city and thence back to that city. He denies having participated in the holdup.

According to the police nothing so far has developed which can directly implicate Bennelach. Bennelach admits having received a $5 tip from the bandits.

A mantle of secrecy followed Bennelach's arrest. It was not for two hours after he had been jailed that the police admitted his arrest. Then followed a series of "back passing" by the police and traction officials as to the complaining witness.

NOT ACTUAL WAR

It begins to appear that there will be an actual break in diplomatic relations between the United States government and Germany, over the matter of Germany's method of undersea warfare. The American government has become exasperated at the continued violation of promises made by Germany and at last has come to the parting of the ways.

But this does not mean war. Necessarily, though such may result if the Germans continue to destroy the lives of American subjects. But the majority of the people believe that there is little danger of actual blows. If circumstances were different this might take place, but Germany's navy is mostly bottled up in the harbors of her home ports and it is not likely that the United States will go over there to join the forces of the allies.

But whatever may be the result of the controversy—whether it be settled by diplomacy or the sword, the duty of every subject of the United States is plain. The action of the president and the American congress must, and will be upheld to the last man and the last dollar. This nation of a hundred million souls, every one of intense loyalty to the constituted government will be a united behind the chief executive, no matter from what nation their forebears originated. They are now subjects of the United States and as such will cheerfully give up the last drop of blood in their bodies in defense of the American government.

But perhaps the present wrangle will all blow over as a dozen other incidents of like character, though not as acute, have. Let us hope so and that the American people be spread taking part in the bloody conflict which is depopulating entire Europe.

THE OPPORTUNITY

Some people are always waiting for opportunity to take them by the hand. It never does, and it never will.

Opportunity is ever present with us. It is by our side, it does our steps, it never leaves us. But it never reaches out its hand. We must do the reaching the grasping the improving.

Don't sit still and wait for opportunity to come to you. Go out and hunt it, and hunt till you find it. It is flirting with you every day in the year, every hour in the day.

One of your greatest opportunities lies in what you may accomplish in aid of your town, for what is good for your town is even better for you. If you want your town to do something for you, you should first do something for the town. Opportunity believes in that, and greets the one who does it.

Don't expect to receive everything and give nothing. Opportunity does not approve of that, will not sanction it, will not lend its aid and encouragement. Only fools expect that, and fools seldom step beyond the shadow of their own foolishness.

The wise man makes his own opportunity, and that begets other and greater opportunities, and they breed success.

Your future is not up to opportunity—it is up to you.

WORN-OUT LAND PROBLEM.

The United States census reveals that in the previous thirty years in New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania alone ten million acres of farm land has been abandoned as unfit for agriculture. This vast area had once been fertile, had raised produce for robbers who fell upon it, beat it, stripped it and left it for dead.

A man who dies is counted an economic loss of $5000 to the community. A dead acre is an economic loss of at least fifty dollars, speaking only of its present, not its potential value. This dead land then represents a loss of half a billion dollars, or the financial equivalent of a hundred thousand deaths.

But, economically speaking, the dead land is the greater loss. We bury our dead, in the knowledge that death is humanly inevitable, and that humanity is all the time reproducing its kind. But the dead land remains a perpetual incumbrance on the earth. It does not reproduce. It refuses to support man or give way to soil that way; it separates fertile lands; it increases the cost of transportation; it lowers the values of surrounding property.

The redemption of worn-out land is not a problem that will solve itself. The greater part of such land never will be brought back to a fifty dollar value without an expenditure of fifty dollars or more per acre upon it. Private enterprises will not assume such a load. The land will not recover by the rest cure, except perhaps after centuries of nature's healing.

Yet no state in the union can afford to have within its borders millions of acres of worn-out lands. The day will come, and is not far distant, when this country will feel the urgent need of producing to the limit, as Germany feels that need today, and is doing. The pressure of population will bring that day, even if war does not.

The proposed nitrate plant of the government would do much toward reclaiming the worn-out lands of the country. It may be necessary for the government, as a protective measure, to step in between the unscientific farmer and the soil he abuses, not only to teach him the folly of stripping his land, but to forbid his robbing posterity and wasting nature's resources.

NOT LIQUID FOOD

In the May American Magazine Dr. Edwin F. Bowers says:

"To prove, out of their own mouths, that the Germans are not nearly so enthusiastic about beer as some beer-bottlers would have us believe, we have but to glance at these excerpts from an army pamphlet entitled 'Alcohol and the Power of Resistance,' circulated widely among German soldiers:

"There is no justification for calling beer 'liquid bread'; a glass of heavy beer costing twenty-five pfennig has no more nourishment than a piece of cheese costing one pfennig. Almost all excesses and disturbances in the army are traced to drink. It is mostly beer that causes the mischief. Beer is not the harmless drink it is supposed to be."

It's our guess the section of Nevada from which the story came of a stage being stalled by jack rabbits isn't "dry."

NOTES FROM THE PLAYHOUSES

ORPHEUM THEATRE (Oakland)

One of the most important announcements in the history of the Oakland Orpheum is that Calve, the world's most famous "Carmen" and one of the greatest prima donnas that grand opera has ever produced, has been taken to the call of vaudeville and will appear at the Orpheum for one week only, beginning Sunday, April 30th.

Associated with Madame Calve in her coming engagement will be Gasparri, the eminent Italian grand opera tenor and her husband.

Madame Calve will sing in French, selections from Sapho and the Habanera from "Carmen." Signor Gasparri will render in Italian arias from Tosca and "The Girl of the Golden West," and for a finale both artists will be heard in the famous duo from "Faust."

Probably because more and greater moods are expressed in music and verse, Hirschel Hender calls himself the "poet at the piano." Mr. Hender is justly credited as being one of the foremost pianists of the day.

Sketches may come and sketches may go, but similar to the babbling brook of rhyme, "Flinder's Funnish Flat" continues in vaudeville forever. Willard Simms' little demonstration of "every man his own paper hanger" forms the principal incident in the little play in which Mr. Simms has appeared not only over and over again in America, but everywhere else where a one-act play forms a part of a theater. "Flinder's Funnish Flat" is absolutely irresistible.

In her classic reproductions of famous statues, Miss Robbie Gordone is a real treat. She is not only an artist, but a beautiful woman as well, and her poses are replicas. Miss Gordone is giving nine art poses, in many cases changing from one to the other in a few seconds.

Bennie and Woods are two young musicians, masters of the violin and piano. For the greater part, they confine their efforts to popular music, but their program also includes classical selections.

The Two Tom Boys present the only "bumst-bumst" act ever given by women, and they are lively to retain this distinction. Their daring, agility and imperviousness to injury command the closest attention and respect. Their acrobatic work is clever, but it is the comedy antics and gay irresponsibilities of the girls that constitute the crowning merit of the team.

D'Avigneau's Imperial Chinese trio of musical and dancing artists will constitute a decided novelty with their skill in playing upon modern instruments and staging modern songs.

Vivian Martin and Harry Hilliard will be presented in the latest five-part screen drama entitled "A Modern Thelma."

PANTHEON THEATRE (Oakland)

Dancing in a shifting kaleidoscope of color, a wonderful exotic ballet of light and shade, unlike anything in the history of art from the queer colors of Bakst, to the weird blacks and whites of Beardsley, Madame Makereite, celebrated Russian Dancuse, will appear for the coming week at the Pantheon in the most daring spectacle she has ever presented, and the most remarkable offering vaudeville in the west has ever seen, "A Dream of the Orient."

The famous dancer whose daring rivals the mammoth productions of the Russian ballet in Petrograd or the queer parody on it that Gertrude Hoffman presented in the east, has an offering unlike anything ever before presented on the stage. The spectacle is evidently intended by the artist to portray the wild feelings of the victim of onium, the strange sensations or masterfully described by De Quincey and so strikingly told in Beardsley's pictures, but as the dancer presents the remarkable fantasy, any suggestion of the grim side of the tragedy disappears, and one floats with her through the dreamy visions that rise, one on another, as foam rises from the sea.

A clever ballet corps accompanies the dancer in her remarkable production. This headline feature is backed up with other notable offerings on the Pantheon bill for the coming week. In fact, the bill is one of the best and most diversified Manager Pantheon has sent over the circuit in weeks—pure variety—something for every theatergoer, and the majority, if not all of it, pleasing to all. The De Michele brothers are veritable wizards on the harp and violin. They talk through their instruments, they play everything, and so only they can play it. They offer a whole lexicon of music in their striking act.

Edward Farrell is famed on the dramatic stage. His entrance into vaudeville is in "After the Wedding," a clever conceit by Lawrence Graham, which is splendidly acted. The Dancing La Vars have a most terpsichorean novelty, and the Australian Creightons offer a thrilling exhibition of juggling that at times even approaches apparent magic. Faber and Walters appear in a bit of fun and music and "The Iron Claw" episode is ever more exciting than last week's, and no less mysterious. In fact, the mystery is greater with every episode.

HATS AND THEIR FIXINGS

NEW YORK, April 23.—If one possesses a good looking tailor-made from last fall's outfit it is quite possible to use it to advantage, with smart new accessories that draw attention to themselves and the wearer rather than to the costume. Care and attention given to the selection of smart small belongings are worth while for up-to-dateness in minor points often counts very large in the sum total of one's appearance.

NEW BAGS

One smart shop here reports sending a buyer on a flying trip to Paris lately, just to secure the last thing in bags, blouses and neck fixings, and the way the women surround these counters in that particular place bears witness to the worth-while of their effort. Beaded bags are first favorites for dress wear. Some of them done in steel on dark silk or leather, suit any time of day while others suggest the vivid color creations of the famous Russian Ballet, which is again entrancing the eye of the metropolis. Nothing is too elegant or gorgeous to pose as a bag, and no accessory adds more in effectiveness if well worn, or relieves the somberness or monotony of a costume more gratefully, but used with a fussy background such articles cease to be smart or attractive.

NECK FIXINGS

Collars have become capes or fichus in the newest dispensation, has assumed the hues of the rainbow, and added to themselves vests in many instances. Chin-Chin ruffs continue modish and nearly meet the small turban shapes with which type of hat they usually go best.

Spanish influence is no doubt responsible for the mantillas and pelerines that have broken out in very deluge of taffeta fabrics, in colors so dainty and folds so voluminous that they are a joy to the eye.

For general wear these garments are made up in black, which goes with anything anywhere, but for wear with fussy frocks no color is too delicate, and changeables are to the fore again. Fichu and satin are used for long coats that cover the costume where a bit more warmth is demanded and trimmings of arabian are favorites with these.

PAGODAS

With the introduction of the Chinese note in this season's fashions, pagoda suggestions are prominent in hats and parasols. The latter come in many ribbed forms and are quite apt to be square as circular, and duplex rather than single, as are many of the hats with trimmings nestled under the overhanging part. Chin straps and long ends of ribbon or velvet, or tulle, hang from the back of the hat or are disposed about the throat at the whim of the wearer, and many of these ends are ornamented with small nosegays or other devices.

SPANISH COMBS AND FANS

To go with Spanish motifs in dress design, huge combs adorn the coiffure and the fan assumes unusual importance. A fan of white ostrich feathers held flat against the frame has little tips fluffing softly at intervals, the long wooden handle finished with a small rosette in silk of vivid color. Another has a handle of yellow tortoise shell and natural peacock feathers and is set with brilliants.

Tulle scarfs, just two yards, cut off the piece unhemmed, are worn by everyone in the evening and fashion points to the coming of the straight heeled Spanish shoe.

HUMANE WEEK WILL BE OBSERVED IN THIS CITY 58 MORE KILLED IN 1916 THAN IN PAST YEAR

Members of humane societies throughout the United States are preparing for the observance this year of "kindness to animal week," May 15 to 20 and "Humane Sunday," May 31. The society for the prevention of cruelty to animals made an appeal to clergymen of all denominations in the state to preach sermons on the subject of kindness to animals on Sunday, May 21, and announced its willingness to furnish material for the preparation of sermons to any clergyman upon receipt of a postcard.

The movement to observe one week in each year as "animal week" is fostered by the American Humane Association at Albany, N. Y., and the association is making unusual efforts to have the celebration universal this year. Large quantities of literature are being distributed and the association has volunteered to co-operate with any individual in any locality who will help the movement by undertaking special activity, such as a work horse parade, an exhibition of well-kept animals; a public address; or special school exercises. Children particularly are invited to participate in essay competitions and the association will issue a honorary certificate to any child whose essay is read in a school or printed in a newspaper. The only provisions are that the essay shall deal with the kind treatment of animals.

AT THE REGENT THEATRE

In "Fried for His Own Murder." A three part Broadway Star feature produced by Vitaphone, the popular actor, Maurice Costello, has a strong part. John D'Arcy (Maurice Costello) disappointed with life decides to go away and at the river's edge finds the body of a murdered man. He exchanges identity with the dead man and when the body is found with D'Arcy's clothes and papers it is supposed that D'Arcy has been murdered. D'Arcy goes away raises a beard which changes his appearance. Later it is discovered that D'Arcy's (who is living under an assumed name) thumb print are the same as the one found on the dead man and he is arrested for his own murder. Explanations follow which straighten out the tangle.

The tenth episode of "The Broken Coin" named "Cornered" will be shown and a Selig comedy, "Chronicle of Bloom Center" or "When the Circus Came to Town," all the latest Vitaphone News with an extra reel of the raid on New Columbia.

FEW HIGH SCHOOL CREDENTIALS GIVEN

Only a few high school credentials were granted teachers at the April meeting of the state board of education held in Los Angeles, because the meeting was a special one devoted almost wholly to normal school problems. Only particularly urgent cases were handled. The following candidates were successful:

Marie E. Goethals, Riverside; W. C. MacNaui, Sierra Madre; Edgar A. Rippey, Tonkawa, Okla.

The following were granted certificates conditionally: Lucile E. Hansen, Muncie, Ind.; R. S. Parsons, Jeffersonville, Ohio; Helen G. Fisher, Los Angeles; Herman Missen, Palo Alto.

The following health and development certificates were granted: Dr. Earl E. Burk, Los Angeles; Dr. J. I. Carter, Los Angeles; Dr. Cecil F. Carlton, Los Angeles; Dr. J. Marcaret, Roberts, Los Angeles; Dr. Geni. M. Freese, Los Angeles; Dr. Mary A. Harris, Los Angeles, (conditionally).

FOR AMADOR

Miss Hazel Zumbiel and Miss Beatrice White left yesterday morning for Jackson, Amador county for a three weeks vacation to be spent with Miss Zumbiel's parents. Upon returning the two will visit in Stockton for a few days with Miss White's brother.

Friends of W. H. Marsh, former newspaper man of this city have received word from Sacramento that "Harry" is now a proud father of an eight pound Native Son.

Attorney C. A. Odell is bothered with boils. He has three on his neck which have taken him away from his duties.

The Industrial Accident commission has just issued figures giving the number of deaths in the industries of California during the year 1915 and draws attention to the list as compared with the statistics for 1914. In the latter year there were 691 workers killed and in 1915, 533 workers were given their lives to the industries of this state. The following table shows the reductions in the death list by occupations (the word "Service" includes employees of men in the professions, as well as those engaged in hotel service, apartment houses, restaurants, domestic servants and amusement or entertainment employees).

| Agriculture                         | 55   | 62   |
| Construction                        | 78   | 115  |
| Extraction (mining and quarrying)   | 71   | 86   |
| Manufacturing                       | 99   | 121  |
| Service                             | 25   | 24   |
| Trades                              | 20   | 24   |
| Transportation and public utilities | 171  | 239  |
| Unknown                             | 13   | 20   |
| Total                               | 533  | 691  |

The effective work in behalf of "Safety First" has been accomplished as a result of cordial support from employers and employees, the public generally, and the press of California. It is a striking result to be able to show a reduction of 158 in the death roll of 1915 as compared to 1914. That this reduction comes as the result of careful planning is shown by the decrease in the main industries of the state, excepting service, where the record shows an increase of one death in 1915 over 1914.

TRAPPING ANIMALS BRANDED AS CRUEL

Professional trapping in the mountains is accompanied by many pitiful cruelties, according to A. C. Shelton, field worker in the department of zoology of the University of Oregon, who has visited many a line of traps in his travels in the Cascades and elsewhere, and in his own trapping for the university's dissecting work and museum.

Fine squirrels, flying squirrels and rabbits frequently get caught in traps set for fur-bearing animals. The squirrels are usually eaten by the fies before the trapper gets around. Mr. Shelton has found dead rabbits held to the traps merely by pieces of skin, showing how desperate had been their struggles to escape.

Trappers that leave wild animals in their traps for three or four days at a time are laying themselves open for prosecution by the humane society of California. Officer Chas. Kelley of the Pasadena society was notified that animals were being left to suffer in Monrovia canyon and he is investigating the cases.

According to Kelly, it is not against the law to catch wild animals in traps, but it is a misdemeanor for anyone to leave game in the traps to suffer. In Monrovia canyon there is considerable wild game and trappers have scores of traps set in that wild region, with the results that large quantities of small animals are being caught. Kelly states that the trappers do not make daily rounds of their traps and, as a result, animals sometimes go three or four days and possibly longer in the traps before they are killed. The humane society is determined to put a stop to such practices, although it cannot prevent the trapping of game.

Eddie Foy, Well Known Fun Maker In Movies Tonight

Triangle Plays, which Manager Wilson of the Richmond theater through his long years of experience has discovered are among the most popular shown on the American state today, will be toppers at the Richmond theater for tonight. The principle attraction on the bill will be "The Coward" a Thomas W Ince production. In the all star cast are Charles Ray and Frank Keenan with other well known screen features of equal brilliancy. The Coward in motion pictures is adapted from the well known novel of the same name which a few years since might have correctly been called the most popular of current fiction stories. "The Coward" was one of the "season's best sellers." In motion pictures it is even more popular than in novel form. Sparkling comedy is presented in the Triangle Keystone, "Eddie Foy and the seven little Foyes" in "A Favorite Fool" Eddie Foy is well known to a number of Richmond people who have seen him on the legitimate stage in San Francisco.

'CHERRY'S ARE GLAD TO TRUST ME, AND I'M CERTAINLY GLAD TO LET THEM'

"because I need spring clothes, and if I had to pay cash for them there's no telling how long I'd be needing them."

"I've been asked to the country with a party of friends this week—and I haven't any sport clothes (nor even a stylish suit) to wear."

"But I will have BOTH by tomorrow noon. I'm going to CHERRY'S, the clothing store which Oakland man and women couldn't get along without, and I shall pick out my new things and pay for them ON INSTALLMENTS."

"If there's anything I love to do it's to choose Sport Clothes—and especially this spring at CHERRY'S, because the Corduroys in dainty summer shades are simply bewitching. CHERRY'S have a showing of Suits, Dresses, Coats, Waists, etc., too, that will please the most exacting women."

"A small part of the price is all you'll have to pay when you buy clothes at CHERRY'S. Your weekly or monthly payment will be made to suit YOU. CHERRY'S ladies' store is located at 515 13th street, and just across the street, 523 13th street, is the men's store, and remember they have two stores in San Francisco, one at 2400 Mission street and the other at 1009 Market street. These stores sell men's clothing as well as women's. Other stores—Portland, Tacoma, Los Angeles and Sacramento."—Advt.
